Acknowledgments

1. The Examiner for this application has changed with effect from November 15th, 2007. Please indicate Examiner Sanjeev Malhotra as the examiner of record in all future correspondence.

DETAILED ACTION

2. This is the Final Office Action in response to the Amendment, Remarks/ Arguments filed by the Applicant on August 6th, 2007 for its application titled: "Remittance Payment Processing with Account Scheming and/or Validation".

Of the previously pending Claims 46-76, Claims 52-53 and 67-68 have been cancelled, and Claims 46, 54-55, 61, 69-70 and 76 have been amended. Thus, Claims 46-51, 54-66, 69-76 are currently pending in this application.

Priority Claim

3. The Applicants have failed to address their priority date claim per 35 USC 120 and/or 37 CFR 1.78 in their response filed on August 6, 2007. As noted in the Non-Final Rejection mailed out on April 5th, 2007, the Applicants are hereby reminded to amend their Specification to claim the correct priority date. The Applicants submission of August 6th, 2007 is NOT fully responsive to the Office Action of April 5th, 2007, and the current Examiner considers it a genuine oversight on part of the Applicants and thus grants them additional time to correct their priority date claim.

As a ready reference, the paragraph from April 5th, 2007 Office Action is described below:

“This application discloses and claims only subject matter disclosed in prior Application No. 08-994,047, filed 12/19/1997 and names an inventor or inventors named in the prior application. Accordingly, this application may constitute a continuation or division. Should applicant desire to obtain the benefit of the filing date of the prior application, attention is directed to 35 U.S.C. 120 and 37 CFR 1.78.”

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 46-51, 54-66, 69-76 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by US Patent No. 6,311,170 issued to Mark C. Embrey claiming priority from December 4, 1996 and titled: “Method and Apparatus for Making Payments and Delivering Payment Information” (hereinafter “Embrey”).

Altering the customer account number to a modified consumer account number, based on the at least one alteration rule associated with the payee, and wherein altering the consumer account number to a modified consumer account number includes inserting a character string at a particular position in the consumer account number to create the modified consumer account number (Embrey, Figure 4, item 13 and column 8, lines 43-59)

Transmitting the modified consumer account number to the payee (Embrey, Figure 4, item 19)

Re claim 47 & 62: Embrey discloses:

Re claim 48 & 63: Embrey discloses:

One alteration rule identifies an expected account number format required by the payee (Embrey, Figure 33, item 1615)

Re claim 49 & 64: Embrey discloses:

One alteration rule is associated with a plurality of payees (Embrey, Figure 32, 2 payee)

Re claim 50 & 65: Embrey discloses:

Consumer account number is received as part of a payment record (Embrey, Figure 4, item 18)

Re claim 51 & 66: Embrey discloses:

Payment record is one of a plurality of payment records received in a batch (Embrey, Figure 4, item 18)

Re claim 54 & 69: Embrey discloses:

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's REMARKS and Arguments dated August 6th, 2007 with respect to Claims 46-51, 54-66, 69-76 have been considered, but they are not persuasive.

In the last Office Action mailed on April 5th, 2007, the Examiner of record put forth the arguments for rejection of Claims 46-76; and current Examiner maintains the argument of the previous examiner(s), and disagrees with the arguments submitted. Further, the current Examiner clarifies that the current amendments were mainly the cancelled dependent claims (52-53 and 67-68) that were rejected before and now have been rolled into the independent claims to amend them. Thus, the Applicants argument about Embrey's teachings is not persuasive, as the amendments had been rejected before as dependent claims.

Further, the Examiner clarifies that Embrey's teaching include payment information sent to payees as described in Column 3, lines 34-41 that the Applicants may have missed by stopping their review at line 33 as stated in their arguments: "According to the Office Action mailed on April 5, 2007, Claims 46-76 have been rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent No. 6,311,170 to Embrey ("Embrey"). As disclosed in Embrey, a service provider makes payments, on behalf of the plurality of payor entities, to a plurality of payee entities where a trusted intermediary financial institution periodically receives payment information and payment authorization from the plurality of payor entities. (See Embrey, Abstract). The trusted intermediary financial institution automatically transfers funds to the service provider in amounts consistent with payment information that includes (1) an identification of each of the plurality of payee entities; (2) an identification of payment amounts for each of the plurality of payee entities; (3) a payment record identifier (also referred to as a "virtual check number") which is uniquely associated with each payment; and (4) a character string, known as an "authorization code", which is uniquely associated with each payment record identifier. (See Embrey, Abstract; Col. 3, lines 10-33; Col. 8, lines 43-59)." Further, the Applicants are informed that the references cited in the rejection of claims must be read in entirety as other passages and drawings may also apply.

Additionally, the current Examiner has carefully searched the Specification for the description of "the alteration rules" as submitted by the Applicants and have found the following: "The alteration rules can specify a wide variety of formats and may be realized as templates specifying fields or values, or as instructions for combining information from different fields. Typically, an altered account number is formed by combining the account number with some part of payment information or other information related to the payee. For example, the altered account number may include a portion of the payor's name, a portion of the payor's address, or a portion of the payor's zip code combined with the account number." Embrey's teachings state in part of Column 3, lines 34-41: "The payment information includes at least (1) an identification of each of the plurality of payee entities, (2) an identification of payment amounts for each of the plurality of payee entities; and (3) a payment record identifier which is uniquely associated with each payment amount such as a "virtual check number"., and this unique record identifier is consistent with "the alteration rules" described by the Applicants in their Specification.

Conclusion

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
